10:00 a.m.  Plenary | Reducing the Number of People with Mental Illnesses in Jail: Six Questions County Leaders Need to Ask (Grand Ballroom)
Bringing efforts to reduce the number of people with mental illnesses in jail to scale is a major challenge for counties across the country—it requires an ongoing, data-driven planning effort that results in systems-level changes in policy and practice. During this plenary, speakers from The Council of State Governments Justice Center will describe the six questions county leaders need to answer to ensure they’re able to have systems-level impact on the number of people with mental illnesses in jail. County officials will describe their answers to these six questions and then provide opportunities for county teams to discuss how their experiences relate to the counties profiled. Teams should leave the session with a sense of the strengths and gaps in their existing efforts.
Speakers:
- Michael Daniels, Policy Director to Commissioner Marilyn Brown, Franklin County, Ohio
- Tony Fabelo, PhD, Director of Research, The Council of State Governments Justice Center
- Elizabeth Glazer, Director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, New York City, New York

10:30 a.m.  Breakout Sessions

A. Stepping Up in Rural Communities: Challenges and Opportunities (South Carolina)
Despite their small populations, rural counties face some of the same challenges as urban counties in their behavioral health and justice systems. But in certain ways, rural counties struggle even more. In this workshop, speakers will discuss challenges that rural counties face when trying to reduce incarceration of people with mental illnesses, and provide rural county leaders with innovative strategies for developing the capacity to address these challenges.
Presider: Hon. Susan Flores, Commissioner, Otero County, New Mexico

Speakers:

- Patrick Fleming, National Association of Counties Fellow and Retired Director, Behavioral Health Services, Salt Lake County, Utah
- Sarah Petersen, Welfare Director, Codington County, South Dakota

B. Comprehensive Treatment Strategies Associated with Recidivism Reduction (Virginia)
Clinicians and administrators of health care systems will explain adjustments that health care providers have made to meet the needs of people involved in the justice system. Topics will include building workforce and treatment capacity and accountability, utilizing evidence-based practices that promote recovery and reduce recidivism, and reducing appointment wait times.

Presider: Hon. Kevin Barnhardt, Commissioner, Berks County, Pennsylvania

Speakers:

- Michael Champion, MD, Forensic Chief, Department of Health, Adult Mental Health Division, State of Hawai’i
- Stephanie Le Melle, MD, Co-Director of Public Psychiatry Education at New York State Psychiatric Institute, Columbia University, Judges’ Criminal Justice/Mental Health Leadership Initiative Psychiatric Leadership Group Member

Moderator: Fred Osher, MD, Director of Health Systems and Services Policy, The Council of State Governments Justice Center

C. How Can Effective Partnerships between Local Law Enforcement and Behavioral Health Services Reduce the Number of People with Mental Illnesses Booked into Jail? (Pennsylvania)
This workshop will provide an overview of specialized police response (SPR) programs that provide a new set of response options for law enforcement, tailored to people with behavioral health needs. It will explore the collaboration between law enforcement and behavioral health professions, alongside other community members, to create and sustain protocols that improve responses to people with mental illnesses, while reducing the number of people with mental illnesses who are booked into jails.

Presider: Hon. Tony Guillory, Police Juror, Calcasieu Parish, Louisiana

Speakers:

- Leon Evans, Chief Executive Officer, The Center for Health Care Services, Bexar County, Texas
- Kristen Roman, Captain, Madison Police Department, Madison, Wisconsin

D. Engaging People Affected by Mental Illness in the Stepping Up Initiative (Rhode Island)
People living with mental illnesses and their family members should play a key role in counties’ collaborative efforts to reduce the number of people with mental illnesses in jails. This session will cover different ways in which this broad advocacy community can be a strong ally in local Stepping Up efforts by building goodwill with the broader community; engaging media; advising on strategies that work for advancing mental health recovery; assisting with training criminal justice professionals; and providing peer support to individuals and families in crisis.
Speakers:
• Hon. Theresa Daniel, PhD, Commissioner, Dallas County, Texas
• Jennifer Mehnert, Executive Director, National Alliance on Mental Illness Maine, Penobscot County, Maine
• Kenneth Norton, Executive Director, National Alliance on Mental Illness New Hampshire, Merrimack County, New Hampshire
Moderator: Mary Giliberti, Executive Director, National Alliance on Mental Illness

E. Meeting the Needs of People with Co-Occurring Substance Use Disorders and Mental Illnesses (Georgia)
Experts will discuss systems-level coordination and reform efforts to address co-occurring substance use disorders and mental illnesses. The panel will include leaders in the substance use disorder field and a health systems administrator, who will identify key areas for partnership in reducing the number of people with co-occurring disorders in jails.

Moderator: Mary Giliberti, Executive Director, National Alliance on Mental Illness

F. How to Leverage State Block Grants, Medicaid, and Federal Disability Benefits (Massachusetts)
Many counties struggle to identify funding for initiatives to reduce the number of people with mental illnesses in their jails and provide appropriate community-based services. In this workshop, speakers will discuss strategies for accessing state and federal funding to support these initiatives and give recommendations for working with state policymakers and health care systems to increase access to treatment and services for people with mental illnesses who are involved in the justice system.

Moderator: Robert Morrison, Executive Director, National Association of State Alcohol and Drug Abuse Directors

G. Scaling Pretrial, Diversion, and Information-Sharing Strategies to Keep People with Mental Illnesses Out of Jails (Maryland)
In an effort to inform diversion and pretrial decision making, counties across the country are designing and implementing new approaches to identifying people with mental illnesses at arrest and booking. In this workshop, speakers will discuss strategies for collecting relevant mental health and risk information, sharing this information effectively across systems, and using it to inform decisions about diversion, pretrial release, supervision, and connection to services.
Presider: Cherise Fanno Burdeen, Executive Director, Pretrial Justice Institute

Speakers:
• Lynn Overmann, Senior Policy Advisor to the U.S. Chief Technology Officer, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy
• Robert Sullivan, Criminal Justice Coordinator, Johnson County, Kansas

Moderator: Hallie Fader-Towe, Senior Policy Advisor, The Council of State Governments Justice Center
